

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Council Meeting is Postponed for To-night to Consider Pest-house Question.

WILL PROBABLY BUILD ONE

Mr. P. B. Turpin Killed—Funeral of Mr. Crowder—Mrs. Moody Dies.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, 1102 Hull Street, The Common Council, which was supposed to have met last night, did not convene owing to the fact that so much time was taken up by the meeting of the Health Committee. The only matter of importance transacted by this committee was the recommending of the building of a pest house for the cure of smallpox patients. This recommendation will be laid before the council at its meeting to-night. There seems every likelihood that the recommendation will be acted upon and that the tent, which is being used as a temporary pest-house will be replaced by a permanent structure.

It is probable that a meeting of the Clear Water Committee will also be called to-night.

Governor Swanson to Speak.

The Manchester Lodge of Masons expect to have a brilliant meeting to-night, when they will hear His Excellency, Claude A. Swanson, J. Alston Cabell and F. B. Brent.

Governor Swanson will address the meeting and the other two gentlemen will speak on John Paul Jones, the one on the naval ability of this great sailor and the other on his efficiency and standing as a Mason.

Indemnity. Improved Order of Red Men, met last night and transacted business of importance, as did the Manchester Lodge, R. P. O. Elks.

The Manchester Aerie of Eagles will hold a meeting in Toney's Hall to-morrow night. An order has been issued to every man in the United States, calling upon every man to contribute twenty-five cents for the relief of the distressed Eagles in San Francisco. The stricken city has over two thousand Eagles in its two aeries.

SKIN ECZEMA IN WORST FORM

Black Spots All Over Face—Produced Severe Itching—Year's Treatment by Physicians Did No Good and Became Despondent—Affected Parts Now Clear as Ever—Alabama Lady's

CURE BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black spots all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of annoyance and suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of my town. After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they pronounced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for the same for the length of one year, but the treatment did me no good.

"Finally I became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. Shortly afterwards, my husband in reading a copy of a weekly New York paper saw an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. He purchased the entire outfit, and after using the contents of the first bottle of Cuticura Resolvent in conjunction with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the breaking out entirely stopped. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every spot was entirely gone and the affected parts were left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago.

"The Cuticura Remedies not only cured me of that dreadful disease, eczema, but other complicated troubles, as well, and I have been the means of others being cured of the same disease by the Cuticura Remedies, and I don't hesitate in saying that the Resolvent is the best blood medicine that the world has ever known." ## PRETTY ROMANCE ENDS IN MARRIAGE

Girl Now a Wife Nursed Sweet-heart Through a Severe Illness.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ASHLAND, VA., April 23.—The culmination of a very romantic courtship was solemnized by the marriage in Ashland last night at 7:30 o'clock of Miss Carrie Young, a niece of Mr. Phil Saunders, was married to Mr. Julian Lumsden, of Louisville. The Rev. Mr. H. J. Semmon, of the Christian Church, performed the ceremony at the home of the bride. The families of the two contracting parties have long been intimate. The Lumsdens in Louisville have recently been afflicted with an epidemic of typhoid fever which at one time threatened to annihilate nine of its well-known members. Miss Carrie Young, who is well known here, has for many years been intimately and lovingly known by the large family of Lumsdens in Louisville. She felt impelled by the strongest motives to go to the rescue of her friends, and defied the dread ravages of typhoid fever by volunteering her valuable services as nurse, which were immediately accepted. She nursed the family, including Mr. Julian Lumsden, safely through, and recently returned to Ashland to fall a victim of the dread disease. All of the family, as well as herself, by being allowed nurse her to health again. Both families agreed and the lives of this young couple were bound together for the beautiful and impressive service of the Christian Church.

MINISTER ANNOYED BY UNSIGNED LETTERS

The Rev. George W. McDaniel, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has lately been the recipient of certain anonymous and annoying letters. Sunday morning before the preaching of his sermon he happened to find that he was deeply grieved to find that such letters had been received by him. Mr. McDaniel did not specify their contents, but asked that if the writer or writers were in the congregation before him, he hoped that they would hereafter seek a personal interview for further confessions or grievances. The preacher was careful to point out that his remarks had no reference to certain modest persons who had sent him signed communications, containing money for the Georgia sufferers.

This church members are highly indignant at the act of the poster being anonymous. Although few, if any, besides Mr. McDaniel and the unknown writers, know the letters' contents, yet it is a fact that the letters were signed by a general, and that they were nothing but foolish and foolish grievances and unfounded fault-finding, such as many pastors daily receive.

Miss Alice Sammons, of Fredericksburg, is visiting Mrs. A. R. Jamison, at the Union Theological Seminary. Rev. Dr. A. R. Jamison, of Norton, West Virginia, will arrive to-morrow to visit his cousin, Mr. D. W. Moffatt, of this city, for a few days.

YOUNG BUFFALO IS A RED-HOT HERO

Wild West Show at the Bijou Pleases a Large Audience.

WILL PLAY FOR CHARITY

"Young Buffalo, King of the Wild West," hit Richmond at the Bijou Theater last night with a whoop and amid a fusillade of pistol shots proceeded to make good with the crowded house that greeted him.

The play is a typical Blaney production, which means that one has to use the vernacular to describe it. In other words, it's a red-hot show, with a thrill and a pistol shot for every other line.

Young Buffalo and his partner, Wild Nell, are as tough with their guns as the villain's mind runs to evil and they triumphantly overcome his every scheme and the wild applause and frenzied huzzas of the gallery.

There are with the show a number of genuine Indian from the Pine Ridge reservation. These braves, with the squaw and her three papooses, add tremendously in coloring the performance, while a horse and two ponies fill in sundry gaps. When Young Buffalo rode on the stage dragging the Indian who had tried to kill him at the end of his lasso, the gallery grew wildly hysterical and drowned the noise on the stage.

There are a few specialties introduced, including some excellent acrobatic work, which received the approval of the audience. The performance of the week will be the Thursday matinee.

Manager McKee announces that the gross receipts of this performance, and the gross receipts of the Thursday matinee at every theater in the Wells circuit, including in Richmond, the Bijou, the Grand Opera and Wonderland, will be turned over to the sufferers at San Francisco.

The different troupes and all the attractions of the show will serve without pay and every cent taken in will be used to that end.

At this performance, after the show, the Indians will hold an informal reception on the stage and will shake hands with any who wish to meet them. Young Buffalo will act as interpreter.

War Correspondent.

Edwin Emerson, one of the most adventurous war correspondents, is to tell of his experiences in running the Port Arthur blockade in a lecture to be delivered at the Academy of Music to-morrow. Emerson straddled the war. He saw service with both the Russian and the Japanese armies. He got his impressions first-hand—generally on the firing line.

DAVIS STATUE IS READY FOR FOUNDRY

In Mr. E. V. Valentine's studio stands the nearly completed model from which the bronze statue of Jefferson Davis will be cast. The sculptor invited several members of the Jefferson Davis Memorial Advisory Committee to examine the statue as it stands to-day, predominant among the many statues and studies in the big room. Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellsper, chairman of the committee, Mr. D. C. Richardson, Mr. Joseph Bryan and Judge George L. Christian took advantage of the opportunity to view the heroic and towering statue, and were much pleased with the present development.

The figure stands eight feet high. It represents Mr. Davis as an orator, with right hand extended and head held high. Upon an open book, supported on a Doric column, which is symbolic of the great work of the country, rests the arm of the statue. The figure stands on a base of his left hand. The foot of this column is a rough mass of stone, which gradually assumes definite shape and finally sweeps up into the pure Greek form, capped by the constitution and the date, "1861," representing the great work of the country.

The entire scheme of the monument is to have back of the Confederate President a succession of marble columns, representative of the Confederate States. On a pedestal above all will stand a female figure, symbolizing the women of the South.

As soon as the statue is finished it will be sent to New York for the bronze casting. The unveiling will take place at Cedar Street and Monument Avenue on June 3d of next year, and if the next Confederate reunion is held in Richmond, the statue will be the center of the celebration.

Major McCarthy and the Richmond delegation have gone to New Orleans with the special purpose of getting the next reunion.

VARIED PROGRAMME AT FLORAL BAZAAR

Last night the largest crowd was present and most lively sales were made that has yet attended the Floral Bazaar at Masonic Temple. It was a gay scene with the prettily decorated booths and merry throng, with many young ladies in fancy costume. The orchestra also entertained things in the early part of the evening. An entertainment was given, Miss Fannie Lewis and Miss Bessie Wilson rendered instrumental and vocal solos, respectively, and Mr. E. H. Bailey and Professor R. B. Blanton recited. The Methodist booth is decorated with water lilies and sells all kinds of fancy work. It also has an annex, named "The Free Kindergarten and Day Nursery" has three connected booths. The first is decorated with cherry blossoms, and sells fancy work and household work. The second is decorated with chrysanthemums and sell laundry articles. The third sells candy and is trimmed with red roses. The Presbyterian booth is decorated with water lilies. The Baptist booth is also decorated with water lilies. The Episcopal booth is decorated with roses. It sells anything from pins and needles to a round cart.

Mrs. W. M. Wade has charge of the tobacco and lemonade booth. The latter is trimmed with tobacco leaves and needles and the smoking room adjoining is the Mecca for the gentlemen.

The restaurant is decorated with roses and ferns, and serves an elaborate and delicious menu.

Mother Goose and her famous wax-works, under the direction of Miss Janie Pelous, will appear at the Floral Bazaar to-morrow, April 25th, at 5 o'clock. There will be seen Red Riding Hood, the Wolf, Little Miss Muffet and her spider and many others so dear to all children's hearts. The admission is five cents, and for the benefit of the Free Kindergarten and Woman's Christian Association.

FAKE CLUBS WILL GO TO THE WALL

Police Department to Wage War Against So-Called Social Organizations.

THE POLICE BOARD APPROVES

The police department of Richmond are about to begin a systematic campaign against the so-called social clubs that infest the city, and a crusade to reduce the number of bar-room licenses.

Chief-of-Police Werner and his captains, with the hearty approval and co-operation of the members of the Police Board, are now earnestly at work in gathering evidence to be used against the "fake" clubs and against the bar-room owners who are abusing the privileges granted them under their licenses.

In Richmond at the present time there are in operation 42 licensed so-called social clubs only 7 of which, so the police say, are bona fide social resorts, the remaining 35 being used solely for the sale of liquor and are in fact nothing more or less than bar-rooms.

It is against this evil that war will be waged and every effort will be made to close their doors.

As an example of the frontory of the "fake" clubs, it is said that no less than seven do business within 30 yards of the First Police Station.

Will Show Their Hand.

The hand of the police department will be shown first in the cases now pending against social clubs in the Hustings Court, which will be tried on Friday next.

There are eight clubs arraigned on various charges and most of the cases have already been sent up from the Police Court.

The police department has about five weeks in which to make its investigation, for liquor licenses have to be granted by the end of May.

The whole city is being gone over carefully and bar-rooms here and there, which the police authorities consider distinctly harmful to the public welfare are being picked out to close.

It is understood that in some cases the granting of licenses for bars will be opposed on the ground that the locations are not proper, while in other cases the contention will be that the men conducting the bar-rooms are not fit persons to secure licenses.

It is said that the police have secured evidence that many bar-keepers have been making a practice of selling liquor to minors and that these men will not be able to secure a renewal of their liquor license.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET THIS EVENING

The Richmond Education Association will have its annual meeting this evening in Mechanics Institute, at 8:30 o'clock. Ex-Governor Montague will preside at the meeting and the report made, and discussions aroused on questions of educational import, will render the occasion both interesting and profitable.

The Association has a fine membership and an excellent record for work done along all lines tending to the betterment of the community, from a civic, philanthropic and intellectual standpoint.

The special features of the evening will be the reading of the annual report of the Association, the election of officers and the formation of plans for the coming year.

As the membership of the Association is large, and as the points to be discussed are vital ones, it is hoped that there will be a general attendance of members and of all who are concerned about the future of the community and the State. In so far as standards of education are concerned.

HAIL STONES AS LARGE AS EGGS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CREVE, VA., April 23.—The most destructive hail storm ever known in this section came up Sunday afternoon. The Presbyterian Church, Masonic Hall, First Church, and a number of store houses, as well as private residences, are complete wrecks, so far as window glass is concerned.

The whole glass front to Sutton's store was smashed, scattering glass everywhere. In every direction, just as the cloud came over there was a darkness so intense that one could scarcely see across the room. Hail stones fell the size of goose eggs. Hours after the storm they were raked up by the bucketful.

Twelve inches of hail.

Record-Breaking Downpour of Frozen Pellets.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BUCKA MILLS, VA., April 23.—Sunday afternoon a thunder storm, accompanied by some rain and heavy wind, passed over the county. In some sections a heavy downpour of hail is reported. A gentleman from this county who was in Burkeville when the storm passed over that town, said hail fell there to the depth of twelve inches. It is quite cold to-day as a consequence of the hail.

Large As Walnuts.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

STODDERT, April 23.—A terrific wind and hailstorm followed the almost summer heat of yesterday morning. The first cloud came over at noon and others followed in quick succession until the heavens were overcast and darkness gathered fast. By a freak of the ever-changing wind, the clouds were brought back, and the fury of old Neptune was poured forth.

At the home of E. H. Adelman and others in the same vicinity hail as large as walnuts rained down until the whole face of the country had the appearance of a millstone. Fortunately the wheat crop was not far enough advanced to sustain any material damage.

The extent of the storm has not been ascertained, but is known to have reached from Stony Point Mills to Brown's Church.

To-day windows are closed and fires are welcome.

The prospects for a full crop of fruit had been excellent up to this time.

Considerable Damage.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., April 23.—A considerable damage yesterday afternoon in some of the adjoining counties.

VESSELS WRECKED; CROPS DAMAGED

Many Thousands of Dollars of Damage By Hail and Severe Wind.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., April 23.—One of the severest gales of the season blew here to-day; the wind at times reaching a velocity of forty-five miles an hour.

The two-masted schooner General Levi Harris, anchored in the Elizabeth River, was blown ashore this afternoon on the Berkley Flats, and the gasoline launch Maxine was sunk. It was stormy at sea, but the wind blowing off shore, seems to have done no more damage to passing vessels, but sailors were blown far out of their course.

The damage to growing truck crops by the hail storm of yesterday is the more apparent to-day, and fully as great as was at first feared. Acres of crops have been practically ruined. Beans, tomatoes and strawberries suffered most, but even kale and spinach did not escape without injury.

"The damage done was great," said one of the big truckers to-day. "In money it will amount to many thousands of dollars. I cannot say how many."

The local office of the United States Weather Bureau and its forecast for this vicinity to-morrow morning and additional and perhaps more serious damage may be done to the crops.
